

*I really know what's right for me
I walk my path, forever free
my compass tells me, I am right
no need for me to help you fight.*

*Coercive rule erodes what we can be,
it dims the light of shared humanity.
When we fixate on how we're not the same,
we feed division, fear, and start the game of blame.*

*So sad, this blindness, deep and hard to face,
that peace exists if we allow some space.
Coexistence isn't wish or plea,
it lives where hearts are all allowed to be.*

*So it is time for us to rise and walk together,
because today it matters more than ever.
To stand as one, to learn, to grow, to see,
that shared horizons only start
with you and me ...*

*Wishing you a healthy, happy
and connected 2026.*
